

Survey for historical highway bridge design drawings

Abstract : We have to maintenance of existing structures because of existing structures increasing. We need to have data of design and construction. And, we are growing increasingly aware of the need that there is important historical information in these data. This survey is arrangement of a lot of data, which was found at PWRI. And we inventoried these data, produce a copy to contribute to research for civil engineering history.

Key words :historical bridges, design drawings