

Asia Focus in Stockholm World Water Week 2019

Asia Pacific Water Forum (APWF) and its partners are putting a spotlight on the state of water in Asia by sharing the steps, achievements, and remaining gaps that need to be bridged as assessed by the Asia Water Development Outlook (AWDO), the flagship water publication of the Asian Development Bank (ADB).

The Asia Focus program in World Water Week 2019 includes four sessions on water cycle management, rural water and sanitation, governance and inclusive development, and finance, which are all in line with the Yangon Declaration: Pathway Forward adopted by government leaders at the 3rd Asia Pacific Water Summit (APWS) in December 2017. Materiality, Connectivity, and Scalability are three important dimensions that will guide the debate and discussions. The outputs will contribute to the 4th APWS in Kumamoto City, Japan on 19–20 October 2020.

Along with these four sessions, a special showcase event will inform participants of the upcoming AWDO 2020.
